TOWN COUNCIL.

LARGE ADDITION TO WATER PLANT PROPOSED.

Nearly 45,000 Lateral Feet of New Mains Recommended by the Water Committee—Estimated Cost of the Work $17,000—Bond Issue Contemplated as Method of Payment.

Halsey M. Barrett appeared at the Town Council meeting and asked that Police Officer Gilbert Smith be permitted to withdraw his resignation as a member of the police force. Police Officer Smith was suspended from duty without pay on a charge of absence from duty without leave. He had tendered his resignation to the police committee. The resignation, Mr. Barrett said, was due to a misunderstanding, and the suspended officer wanted a hearing. The withdrawal of the resignation was granted, and Friday evening, April 20, was fixed as the date for the hearing.

Councilman Farrand of the Finance Committee reported the result of a meeting of the Board of Estimate to act on the school bond issue. It was unanimously agreed by the board, Mr. Farrand said, to ask the Council to issue bonds to the amount of $35,000 for the enlargement of the Fairview and Watseong schools, and $2,000 in bonds to cancel a mortgage on the Liberty Street school. The Council voted in favor of the bond issue.

Councilman Green of the Street Lighting Committee reported the following recommendations for additional street lights: Grove street 4, Willard place 4, Baldwin place 2, Glenwood avenue 4, Morton street 1, Maolia avenue 3, Warren street 4, Bellevue avenue 1, Dwyer street 1, Willett street 1, Weaver avenue 2, West street 1, Race street 1, Park street 1, State street 1, Stockton street 1, Oakland avenue 2.

At a previous meeting of the Council the Water Committee discussed a proposition for the extension of water mains. The discussion was brought about by an application for the extension of the water main in Willard place, and applications for water on Myrtle avenue between Bay avenue and Morris avenue.

The Water Committee was requested by the Council to make a report of the condition of the streets in the town in which mains were needed. Chairman Green of the Water Committee presented that report on Monday night and it embraced an extensive scheme of pipe laying. The report was as follows:

Broad street, from Watseong avenue to Belmont street, 8,000 ft.
Belmont street, from Grove street to Belmont street, 1,400 ft.
Thomas street, from Belmont street to Alva street, 920 ft.
Edison street, from Belmont street to Alva street, 630 ft.
Myrtle street, from Bay avenue to Fitzherbert street, 1,300 ft.
Franklin avenue, from canal bridge to Glen Ridge Cemetery entrance, 1,300 ft.
John street, from Montgomery street north, 900 ft.
Charles street, from Prospect street to Glenwood avenue, 380 ft.
Carter street, from Glenwood avenue to Borough line, 1,350 ft.
Glenwood avenue, from Carter street to East Orange line, 800 ft.
Willard place, from Franklin street south, 950 ft.
Bellevue avenue west to Borough line, 370 ft.
Edgewood road, from Park avenue to Borough line, 400 ft.
Willow street, from Prospect street to Glenwood avenue, 430 ft.
Alva street, from Edison street north, 430 ft.

The estimated cost of the above plan of extension was given at $17,500.

Councilman Farrand asked how the estimated cost was arrived at. Mr. Green replied that the estimate was furnished by the superintendent of the water department.

At the suggestion of Mayor Fisher, Superintendent Powers, who was present, was called on to reply in detail to Mr. Farrand's question.

Mr. Powers said he based the probable cost upon a comparison with the cost of the mains laid by the water department since the town assumed charge of the water plant.

The statement that the water department was on a paying basis and the proposed enlargement would add to the revenue of the department caused Councilman Murray to ask for a complete financial statement of the expenses and receipts of the water department from its inception down to the present time. Mr. Green said he would have such a statement prepared.

Mr. Farrand asked if any petitions had been received asking for water in the streets in which it was proposed to put down mains.

Mr. Green replied that in some instances, yes, but aside from the question of petitions, he said, there was another important reason why the recommendation of the water committee should be adopted, and it was the matter of fire protection. He spoke of the danger existing in the Italian district near the city line where there was no water in the streets.

Mr. Farrand said he did not want to stop improvements, but this was a large amount of money to spend on streets where there were no buildings, and he thought the matter should be submitted to the people at a public meeting before being gone into.

"In order that the members can vote intelligently on this matter when it comes up at our next meeting," said Councilman Davis. "I would ask Mr. Green to have prepared copies of the list of streets he has just read, and send a copy to each member of the Council."

Gift to Jarvis Memorial Library.
The Jarvis Memorial Library has had a superb addition to its resources, through the generosity of G. Lee Stout. He has presented to the Reference Department a beautiful set of twenty volumes entitled "Great Events by Famous Historians," being extracts from the writings of famous historians, arranged chronologically. In volume I is the official certificate, under the seal of the National Alumni, as to the limitation of the edition (1,000 sets), the registered number of this set (93), and the name of the owner (G. Lee Stout), with the signature of the secretary, Rosalier Johnson.

The books are beautifully bound—some in black, some in red, with gilt lettering and tooling. The cover designs are all different, each being a fac-simile of some famous piece of book-binding, while following the title page an explanation of the design is given.

One of the most interesting is that of volume VII. The binding of this volume is a fac-simile of the original in the British Museum. It was executed by Grollier, then Treasurer-General of France. He was a celebrated collector of books and a most generous patron of art. This simple but elegant binding was executed in the famous shop of Aldus Manutius, the "Scholar-Printer" of Venice.

Grollier had assisted both him and his successors with money in the production of the beautiful volumes which issued from their press, without regard to time or cost. In recognition of his kindnesses special copies of these books, several of which were dedicated to him, were bound in their shop and presented to Grollier. The book is specially bound for him and is identified by the well-known motto, "Io Grollier et Amicum."

The original of the binding of volume VIII is in the British Museum, and is considered the most artistic mosaic design in existence. It was executed about 1710 by Antoine Michel Padouou, royal binder to both France and Portugal. He presented it to Françoise Marie de Bourbon, daughter of Louis XIV and Madame de Montespan, on the anniversary of her marriage to Philippe, Duke of Orleans, who afterward became regent of France. During the Reign of Terror this volume found its way to England, where it was sold at a handsome price. It was bequeathed to the British Museum by Felix Slade, Esq.

The original of volume XVII is in the Vatican Palace. This beautiful Italian binding is believed to have belonged to Demetrio Caravatti, physician to Pope Urban VII. He acquired considerable knowledge of medicine, languages and letters, and possessed a fine library, containing the only books known to have borne the Greek motto, which translated, is "Straight forward and not obliquely."

The frontispieces are in colors, and together with the illustrations, three or four in each volume, are reproductions of famous paintings, such as the multiplex Sepoy shown from the mouths of cannon by the English at Cawpore, India, by Verelstaghin; the Charge of the Six Hundred at Balaklava, by Sir Stanley Berkeley; and Jeanne d'Arc standing, banner in hand, during the coronation of Charles VII, before the high altar at Rheims, by Leupvau.

As to subject matter, take up a volume at random—take, for instance, volume XIII, A. D. 1444-1861. First we find an outline narrative tracing briefly the causes, connections and consequences of the Great Events. Leaving over the pages we read of the Bepeal of the English Corn Laws, told by Justin McCarthy; the Discovery of Neptune, a paper by Sir Oliver Lodge; and further along, the Mexican war, the famine in Ireland, migrations of the Mormons, acquisition of California, gold in Australia, reforms of Pius IX, revolution of February, 1848, in France, by Guizot, and discoveries in Africa, by David Livingstone. Each article is taken from the writings of a man who is an authority on his subject.

Of great importance in the use of the set is the index volume, No. XX, containing a chronology of the Great Events from B. C. 5867-A. D. 1905, bibliography of historical literature, biographical index of noted characters, biographical index of authors represented in this series, general index, and indexed national chronologies.

Reception to Princeton Student.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. King gave a reception Monday night in honor of their son Roland, a student at Princeton University. The affair took place at their home in Baldwin place, Fairview. The guests included the young man's classmates and teachers in the Bloomfield High School. A light lunch was served and there was music, both vocal and instrumental, and social games.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Asked to Take Action in Destroying Mosquito Larvae—Water Supply Reported in Good Condition—New Arrangement in Regard to Culture Examination.

The Board of Health held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night. Jas. E. Brooks appeared before the board with some specimens of mosquito larvae that he had collected in stagnant pools in the town. Mr. Brooks advised that the board take action toward the destruction of the larvae. He alluded to legislative action, and told of the different methods adopted in mosquito extermination.

Chemist D. H. Baldwin submitted a report of his analysis of the water supply, and the water was stated to be of good quality.

Inspector Seymour F. Gilbert reported a number of complaints that he had received since the previous meeting of the board, and also reported action taken on complaints passed upon by the board. The Inspector was directed to serve a number of notices requiring house owners to have their houses connected with the sewer.

On motion of Charles A. Keyser, seconded by Harry White, Seymour F. Gilbert was appointed Health Board Inspector from May 1 to July 1, 1906.

Mr. Thompson of the Sanitary Committee reported that arrangements had been made with Chemist D. H. Baldwin under which Mr. Baldwin will make examinations of diphtheria cultures at a fixed price per culture. Typhoid and other cultures and water analysis will be made by the State Board of Health, and a considerable saving effected in this line of Health Board expenses.

The Newark avenue brick row, which has been discussed by the board in one way and another many times, was again a topic of discussion Thursday night. Some time ago the water was turned off from the houses that constitute the row. Inspector Gilbert reported that the water had not been turned on in the houses, and that the sanitary conditions there were bad. Secretary Johnson was instructed to write to the owner of the premises that the sanitary rules of the town must be complied with, and the tenants provided with water.

Inspector Gilbert reported that he had taken a sample of the water from a well on premises in Willow street, and the indications were that the water was polluted with sewage.

Presentation to Dr. Woodruff.

The Rev. Dr. O. S. Woodruff was the recipient of a token of esteem and friendship Monday night, when sixteen members of Bloomfield Council Royal Arcanum visited Dr. Woodruff at his home in Park street, and presented him with a gold headed ebony cane bearing the inscription, "Presented to Charles S. Woodruff by Bloomfield Council, No. 960, Royal Arcanum."

Harry L. Osborne made the presentation speech. He expressed deep regret that the people of this town were going to lose the valuable services of Dr. Woodruff, and commented upon the doctor's participation as a citizen in matters concerning the welfare of the town spiritually, morally and politically. Mr. Osborne alluded to the particularly friendly feeling felt for Dr. Woodruff by the fraternal organizations of the town with which he had been in close and friendly touch during his ministry here. Frederick H. Carl and John T. Ballard, two members of Dr. Woodruff's church, also made addresses. Mr. Ballard in particular spoke in emphatic terms of the sorrow which many members of the Park M. E. Church felt over the severance of pastoral relations with Dr. Woodruff.

The affair was a complete surprise to Dr. Woodruff, and he spoke very feelingly in his response to the kindly expressions of friendship on the part of his guests.

Miss Johnstone Bennett Dead.

Miss Johnstone Bennett, the actress, who had made this town her home for the last six years, died at the residence of Frank Pettit in Myrtle avenue shortly after 7 o'clock last Saturday morning from tuberculosis, after an illness of about two years.

Miss Bennett was widely known in theatrical circles. She began her stage career nineteen years ago. One of her greatest successes was in "The People's Drummer," where she essayed the life role. She also appeared in vaudeville. Miss Bennett was 38 years old. She was born in Havre, France, and was the daughter of William H. Valentine Orosline. Her mother died at her birth and she was adopted by a friend of the family, Miss Mary Bennett. When the latter died she was again adopted by Sibyl Johnstone, the actress. After Miss Johnstone's death she assumed the name of Johnstone Bennett, in honor of the two persons who had befriended her. The remains were taken to Middle Village, L. I., and cremated.

The Easter service will be repeated in Christ Episcopal Church to-morrow in order to give an opportunity to those who could not attend last Sunday to hear the Easter music. The Easter offering in Christ Church last Sunday surpassed all previous records, amounting to $1,841 in the church and $160 in the Sunday-school. The church offering will be applied to reducing the mortgage indebtedness of the church. The Easter offering will be continued to-morrow.

Rev. J. H. Little, who has been for a number of years engaged in working among the Mountain Whites of Tennessee, will speak of this work to-morrow evening in the First Baptist Church. Mr. Little has been here before, and brings an interesting account of his peculiar work. Baptism will follow the address.

Those who attended the meeting of the Bloomfield Young People's Union in the Sunday-school room of the First Baptist Church on Thursday evening were very well repaid for their presence. The address made by Rev. A. Duryea of the State Christian Endeavor Union Evangelical Committee, filled his hearers with ambition and a desire to do more and better work for Jesus Christ. His theme was "Soul-winning," which, he said, simply means this: "Going to our friends, telling them what kind of a friend Christ is, urging them to become Christians, and showing by our lives how to be Christians. Soul-winning being the most important business in the world, we should be real earnest about it."

The annual parish meeting of the First Presbyterian Church was held in the parish house on Wednesday evening. The election of trustees resulted as follows: To serve for one year, Thomas D. Anderson and Robert Warren Smith; for two years, Howard Hildup and S. W. Boardman, Jr.; for three years, George B. Ewan and Charles A. Hungerford; treasurer, Frederick J. Ogden. In response to numerous requests, the Easter music given by the choir of the First Church, assisted by a chorus, last Sunday, will be repeated to-morrow morning.

The annual election of officers of the Watseong M. E. Church took place on Monday evening, April 16, and the following were elected: President, Edwin E. Cook; first vice-president, Lester L. Dunn, Department of Spiritual Work; second vice-president, Mrs. T. Griffith Jones, Department of World Evangelization; third vice-president, Mrs. Lester L. Jones; assistant pianists, Miss Elizabeth J. Demmert and Miss Clara E. Eitor.

In the Watseong M. E. Church to-morrow Rev. S. Travena Jackson will preach in the morning on "The Second Resurrection." His evening subject will be "The Seven Last Words." There will be special music, and Griffith Jones will sing a solo.

Many attended the Park M. E. Church on Sunday to hear and greet the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlburt, who succeeds Rev. Dr. Charles S. Woodruff. Dr. Hurlburt made a favorable impression and preached a sermon in the morning appropriate to the day. His subject was "The Power of Christ's Resurrection," from Philippians, 3: 10. He spoke in part as follows:

"It was Easter morning in Jerusalem, almost nineteen hundred years ago—when a little company of women, bearing aromatic spices, walked sadly out the gate of the city toward a green hill near at hand. They came to a tomb, hollowed out from the rocks, but found it empty, the stone rolled away, the seal broken, and the form which had been buried there escaped. They stood around that tomb, a little company—half that were assembled at the grave of Jesus on that first Easter morning. To-day not a little company, but the whole civilized world stands around the tomb—not in sorrow, but in rejoicing. Carol are sung, greetings are given, and the world is glad because Christ is risen.

"We see the power of His resurrection as a fact in history. The greatest day in the annals of the world was not when Caesar crossed the Rubicon, or Columbus anchored at San Salvador, or Morse strung his telegraph wires in Speedwell Valley; it was that day when Jesus rose from the dead. If He had never risen His name would have been forgotten, or remembered only as a dream; but living, then and now, the name of Jesus stands above every other name.

"The power of His resurrection has given authority to the name of Jesus. Men may be kings, or queens, or dictators while living, but when dead they are powerless. While Jesus was living on earth He claimed the authority of a king, and that authority He possesses still, because He arose from the dead, never again to die. His name has power among men, because He is living.

"There is another power in Christ, that of taking away sin. While He was on the earth He said to Mary, 'Thy sins are forgiven thee.' I need forgiveness, and so do you; but if the Forgiver is dead who can take His place and set us free? He rose, and risen He lives to forgive our sins and the sins of the whole world.

"The resurrection of Christ has power to assure us of our resurrection also. 'If a man die, shall he live again?' has been the cry of millions in all ages. Here is one who rose from the dead, and came back to this world with the promise that through Him we shall rise also. In the Campo Santo at Naples is a monument bearing the form of Christ, with this inscription: 'I stand among your graves with the promise of everlasting life.'"

A reception to Dr. Hurlburt is being arranged for.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church elected these officers Tuesday night: President, Charles W. Hedden; vice-president, Juliet Maxwell; secretary, Jennie Beldon; treasurer, William M. Maxwell; chairman of committees, look out, May Cook; Sunday-school, Mrs. A. Crane; missionary, Edward Roworth; music, Hattie Garbner; flower, Rosetta Johnson; social, Lucille Maxwell; good literature, Thos. Tidaback; special members of executive committee, Sarah Harrison, Cecil Cook and Maud Chase, representative to local Christian Endeavor Union, Herbert Brown. The society has a membership of 105.

Masonic Ladies' Night.

The members of Bloomfield Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., gave a social entertainment in Central Hall Tuesday evening. It was termed a "Ladies' Night," and there was a large attendance of the members of the lodge, their families and friends, and a pleasant social evening was spent. Fine vocal music, a liberal supply of excellent refreshments, and an interesting and amusing stereopticon exhibition were the features of the evening's programme. In addition to the entertainment in Central Hall the lodge room in Glenwood avenue was thrown open to public inspection.

The vocal music was furnished by the Masonic Quartette from Eureka Lodge, Newark, led by Professor Bolt, the well-known instructor in vocal music. The selections were well received and the quartette responded to many encores.

Charles F. Koehler, a camera enthusiast, was present with his magnificent stereopticon and was assisted by Abram Day, who operated the machine. Mr. Koehler showed a large number of pictures of a varied character. A humorous series caricaturing a Masonic initiation afforded hilarious amusement, and a number of views of scenes of a local character, including the picture of the Master of the lodge, Jesse G. Green, shown at his request, the Fourth of July parade of 1905, and some very fine dissolving views were much enjoyed.

An interesting feature of this part of the entertainment was Mr. Koehler's views and description of his Southern trip, including many views in Florida. Mr. Koehler's views and description of his tour through Cuba were particularly interesting. As a traveler nothing seems to escape his attention, and he brings the camera into play in depicting many of the every-day life phases of the Cubans as well as showing the grandest buildings and the most prominent points of interest.

Foresters' Reception.

Court Bloomfield Centre No. 3220, Independent Order of Foresters, held its tenth annual reception and dance at Central Hall Monday night. William H. Crapes acted as floor manager, and his assistants were A. Bell and Edward Bowne. The committee of arrangements consisted of Frederick Storm, Jr., chairman; William H. Crapes, vice-chairman; Frederick Eitor, secretary; John Mayer, treasurer; A. Renning, Frederick Sommerkamp, Robert S. Freeman, Joseph Youker, Charles Barth, Louis Ehlers, George H. Bohr and Louis Kline.
